

Kids In New Directions

Kids in New Directions (KIND) is a faith-based youth program located in Dayton. KIND began in 1987 to provide outreach to at-risk, under served children of Dayton. KIND provides services to children of all faiths. Our mission is “to feed the mind, body, and spirit of children living in Dayton,” through after-school and summer programs for children ages 5-17.

We provide structured programs in academics, life skills, Christian education, and health/exercise. We collaborate with a number of organizations to improve the health and academic achievement of our children. Our partners include YMCA, Ohio State Extension Office, Boonshoft Museum, K-12 Gallery for Young People, and SMART. The various partnerships provide the youth with “best-in-class” services.

Cassel Hills Golf Course

Cassel Hill has a solid foundation and a sound design. Cassel Hills maintains blue-grass fairways which provide more consistent playing conditions year-round. The front nine at Cassel Hills is relatively flat, while the back nine is hillier, so golfers get to play two different types of courses in one round. And with five par 3s, the course plays longer than its yardage. Because of that, it's no surprise that Cassel Hills is among the best in the Miami Valley. So please come join us to not only play on one of the best golf courses in Montgomery County, but also to help a great cause.
